Thanks that's great news.

Daniel Sullivan from GLTED has expressed interest in using autonomous recording units (passive sampling device) to evaluate health impacts on amphibians and avian species. Since that's more on the eco side than the chemistry side, I've

Hi Elin,

Tom and I are still trying to find a time when we can meet with the Entomologist at UNL, Dr. Judy Wu-Smart. I think she's been out of the office for the holidays. If there's mutual interest and they have enough samples collected or planned to
